MINES AND MINING

REPORTED SALE OF CEL WORLD'S FAIR MID

The Great Valves in the C of this Southwestern Regi in New Mexico and Nevada Oregon's Gold Output.

Special to the Times from San Francisco, says it is reported a Mexican, principal owner of a Commonwealth gold mine, Ariz., has purchased Frank Powers' World's Fair medal and trophy in the Arizona district, Santa Cruz. The price paid for the medal is stated in the telegram, is $1,000.

A FACT TO BE NOTED

The San Francisco Chronicle states to a fact connected with mining in California which applies to copper in Arizona, that should miners removed by investors arrive. It is the opinion of this region are as concerned with gold and silver as the copper extracted from the earth. The Chronicle adds most of the copper is being extensively used for electrical purposes, either in wire or sheet form, as they enough of either one or other to warrant exploration and development of the base metals that made mining a precious metal profitable. The ordinary in the opinion of the newspaper, of the presence of copper in the ground, is copper.

But when they were vocation properties, for business purposes, and copper becomes by-products of sufficient to practically pay all the mining, smelting, converting a part of the copper into copper to those of any other, if we except Arizona our deposits of Peru, into which the copper extensive.

IN NEVADA.

The City News reports the story of a number of eastern ge of whom are directors of the mine. They were J. W. Smith, secretary of the company, the reporter, a holding held arrangement was made upon for a resumption of the mines. The same paper and from the mine is played at the Pilot Knob and

BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.

ALTAIRAS, Jan. 14.—Attorney E. V. Hutton again resumed the cross-examination of witness John Hutton at the morning session of the court at the Leavenworth lynch case. Speaker took witness out of the courtroom from the time the prisoners congregated at the schoolroom to the binding and gagging of the prisoners in the barroom of Myer's hotel, where they were kept under guard by Jim Brown and Sid Coyote. Hutton said that when the miners had been arrested, the schoolhouse to the hotel was half made for the purpose of a lynch. He was asked to give his opinion, but declined, and Claude Morris was selected. On arriving at the hotel the robes and sacks for gags were distributed, and the men lined up in rows. Brown had a gun and the schoolhouse to the hotel was covered with pistols, and orders to hold up their hands. The miners, stamping up quietly, Jim Brown bound the first and then the others. During the process of binding, one man opened the barroom door and was ordered to go back at the point of a pistol. He refused, and another man, and would kill some one else, and would not get off the place. Captain, attracted by the noise, also opened the door, and was called out by Jim Brown, who stepped forward and said that some of the prisoners shouted and groaned. Frank Hall, the first man bound, was taken out to the bridge, and John Morris followed him. Morris followed him to the bridge, and Henry Knob. The two men followed him to the bridge, and Frank Hall managed to get one man and found him to get one man.

INTERVIEW SESSION.

BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.

TACOMA (Wash.), Jan. 14.—(Exclusive Dispatch.) Stella Brusil, a bride 17 years old, who endeavored to poison her husband with carbolic acid on the morning after their marriage, several months ago, has been sentenced to a fine of $100 for the same term.

The adoption of this bill has been urged upon Congress by the American Carbolic Acid Association.

The following officers of the association were reflected: President, F. C. Lusk; vice-president, W. Mayo Newhall; treasurer, T. B. Bishop; secretary, F. J. Clegg.

The General Executive Committee is composed of Walter L. Vail, Los Angeles; John Sparks, Sacramento; Gen. J. W. Glynn, San Francisco; Jerry Millay, Phoenix; Ariz.; J. LeRoy Nickel, San Francisco; Fred Cox, Sacramento; Henry Miller, San Francisco; C. Lusk, Chick; T. B. Bishop, San Francisco; W. Mayo Newhall, San Francisco.

in the North has decreased steadily that in the South during the twenty years from 1880 to 1890 has been slightly less.

During the last twenty years there has been a considerable increase in the rate of growth of the two sections. The percentage of increase of growth of these regions during each of the last two periods showed: the West, North, 24.5; South, 20.1; West, 17.3; 1880-1890, North, 19; South, 22.4; West, 17.5.

When the Trans-Mississippi States are omitted, the rate of growth in the North is slightly greater than that in the South, but the present difference between the two sections in this respect is very slight, being between 1880 and 1890, and less than one-seventh of what it was between 1850 and 1860.

URGED BY STOCKMEN.

LEASING OF PUBLIC LANDS.

BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 14.—The annual meeting of the Pacific Stockmen's Association was held here today. The most important subject considered was the bill for the leasing of unoccupied public lands for grazing purposes. A bill was introduced in the House at the present session, which provides for such leasing, subject to all rights of homestead, mineral entries. It enables a uniform annual rental of 2 cents an acre, the proceeds to form a special fund for the reclamation and irrigation of arid and semi-arid lands. All land will run ten years.

The adoption of this bill has been urged upon Congress by the American Carbolic Acid Association.

The following officers of the association were reflected: President, F. C. Lusk; vice-president, W. Mayo Newhall; treasurer, T. B. Bishop; secretary, F. J. Clegg.

The charge preferred against her is attempted murder. Two weeks ago her husband, Vincent Brusil, secured a divorce. Hearing this, Stella thought the trouble had blown over, and on Sunday returned to Wilkeson, from whence she had fled. Her husband had followed her, and she had been placed in jail. Her father, John Lusk, had arranged and was to secure her release on bail.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 14.—After having taken the precaution to direct his wife to a physician, Anders O. TUCSON (Ariz.), Jan. 14.—Frank Powers has sold his World's Fair Mine in the Harshaw district for $500,000. John Brockman of Commonwealth Mining Company, of which United States Senator Penrose of Pennsylvania is one, is the new owner. Powers is retired. It was a cash deal. The mine is reported to be the richest silver mine in Arizona. Large works will be erected on the property at once.

EMPLOYEES' CONVENTION.

MORE ELABORATE RITUAL.

BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 14.—The second day's session of the convention of the United Brotherhood of Railway Employees was taken up almost entirely with committee work. Reports were given on the order of business this morning, but owing to the large amount of business confronting the various committees they simply reported progress, and an adjournment was taken until 1 o'clock.

Ritual Committee presented its report at the afternoon session, recommending more elaborate ritual. It is said to resemble somewhat the ritual of the Knights of Pythias and Odd Fellows, and is fraternal in character.

Finance Committee is still hard at work on the books of General Secretary R. A. Myers, and was able only to make a partial report this afternoon.

Several changes in the constitution have been proposed. Among them is a proposition as to whether it is advisable to take in men as members who are not actually employed. The issuance of monthly traveling cards is another cause of dissatisfaction.

Judge Cook said today that crime, such as burglary and robbery, was apparently on the increase, and it was his intention to make an example of those found guilty before him and give them the full punishment.

Williams, who had been serving his sentence in the county prison, was granted a furlough to help his wife care for their home.

MATCHES FOR TROTTERS.

LAWSON'S VS. MCANNELL'S.

BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS.—M.

NEW YORK, Jan. 14.—Two matches between three of America's foremost trotters, with the possible exception of champion Crescents, 2:02½, will be arranged.

Thomas Lawson's trotter, Boralina, is to meet ex-Champion Commissioner James J. Scammon's ex-champion trotter,

The Abbot, 2:03½, and E. E. Smithson's young trotter, Lord Derby, 2:06½. In separate matches for a side wager of $20,000.

Lawson's challenge Lawton stated that he would bet from $50,000 to $50,000 on the result of any match he might make,

and both gentlemen have announced that they will accommodate him to the limit in each match. The total side bet on motors will probably offer $20,000, a sum additional to the stake to be contested for, each match will be run for a week by Starter Dwyer.

Senator Maits won the opening race at odds of 12 to 1, and all the way in the mile and one hundred yards race.

arranged the order of the horses and

THE MCKINLEY MEMORIAL.

Ten thousand dollars were contributed in a single day, recently, by the workmen of Homestead, Pa., to the McKinley memorial fund. The majority of the workmen, we are informed in the dispatches, "gave a half-day's pay, from the lowest laborer to the heads of departments."

These enormous contributions from workingmen are a fitting and touching tribute to the worth of the martyr-President, who was the best friend American workmen have ever had in the Presidential chair. In other parts of the country similar contributions have been made, although the work of gathering funds for the memorial has not been entered upon very systematically.

The unfortunate results of the Amalgamated copper deal had been confined to speculators, who go into the stock market with their eyes open, and take their chances of profit or loss, it would have mattered comparatively little, but the evil results are far more wide reaching than this.

Many innocent and confiding people who depend for comfort in their declining years on a modest income derived from the investment of their money, have been tempted or persuaded to invest in copper stocks, and have suffered severe losses, which they could ill afford. Then, again, the sudden drop in the price of copper has already had the effect of closing down a number of mines, and throwing thousands of men out of employment. And the end is not yet.

So great is the indignation that has been caused by this bunch business on a big scale that John D. Rockfeller has paused sufficiently long in his work of manipulating the stock market and teaching Sunday-school to announce that neither he nor his son, nor the Standard Oil Company, has now or ever has had any interest in the Amalgamated Copper Company.

That may possibly be so. Yet there is a very strong and persistent rumor among those on the inside that Rockfeller and some of his intimate business associates have cleaned up at least $50,000,000 out of this deal, which has brought ruin to so many people.

When the time comes for the government to regulate the trusts—and come it undoubtedly will before long—the stock of the Amalgamated copper deal is not likely to result in securing additional favors or considerations for those who make a business of juggling with commodities and quotations, to the detriment of the public good.

THE CHAMPION OF THE DIS
CREDITED.If there is any discompo to be afaid, any faid may be depended upon to do it. So

COPPER.

On several occasions during the past two years The Times has warned its readers to beware of the inflation of copper and copper stocks which has been going on. Those who have heedless warnings have reason to rejoice. Amalgamated copper stock has fallen, within a few months, from $20. to less than $7. Meanwhile, the price of copper has declined from 15¢ cents, the highest point, to 11¢ cents, the New York quotation on Monday afternoon.

The Amalgamated copper deal was one of the most deliberate and gigantic attempts to corner a commodity and swindle the investing public that has been witnessed for many years. When the great era of speculation struck the United States, copper was selling at about 11 cents, around which price it had fluctuated for several years. In little less than a year the price was forced up until it was almost twice that figure, from which point it settled back to 17 cents. Now, as stated, it has fallen back to 11 cents. It is not probable that it will stop even there, although the shunting down of many works will tend to arrest the decline.

This is not the first time that an attempt has been made to corner the copper market of the world. Such at state that "Capt." Newberry was "resigned" from the force at the instigation of the Chief of Police as a result of the exposure, by witnesses from the Los Angeles Times, of the falsity of Newberry's report on the "Sodom" article, so-called. It was well known that this would happen, as Chief Kidder intimated last week that it would follow: Newberry is free from the care of office and is at liberty to get a job on the Herald as a "journalist." We have no doubt he will turn up on the Herald's staff sooner or later. That is where such "journalists" as Newberry generally land—and the Herald has recently avowed its admiration for him.

That is what will happen to Newberry in the end; but what will happen to the Herald? It will go right on exposing the causes of all the freaks and fakes, all the quacks and monstrosities, all the weakness and failures. One sure thing about the oft-transmogrified Herald is that in this respect people always know where to find it. If The Times ever pillories a faker such as ex-Convict Gregory, Jim Brown or Perry H. Newberry, or exposes his wrong-doing and drives him from his place, the Herald invariably may be reckoned on to defend his folly or deviltry and extol his "virtues." By unanimous consent the Herald has been "resigned" to the window of the Herald.

Beautiful New World Unfolded to Canadian Newspaper People.

ALL WELCOMED.

THE Chamber of Commerce did one of the best exhibit work of the season last night when the members of the Western Canadian Press Association, who arrived in Los Angeles yesterday afternoon, and whom all products of the Southland are new, attended en masse the reception tendered them there. Everything in the exhibit hall was examined with interest by the visiting editors of the Canadian North, from the big walnut elephant that towers in a large hall to the fine red strawberries in the glass case below his trunk. It was hard at first to collect the visitors from among the fruits and pumpkins and showcases and steer them into the reception-rooms where their local hosts had gathered to greet them, and renew long-severed friendships.

The two reception-rooms were tastefully decorated in flowers, greenery and bunting in honor of the Canadian guests. The wall at one end of the room was covered by the British and American flags gracefully draped together and framed in a network of luxuriant greenery, which, with the flowers scattered through the rooms, especially delighted the strangers.

A considerable number of Canadian residents of Los Angeles gathered to have dinner with their wives, and many stories of the North were counter-told with as many from the South as the jovial party gathered around the bowls to drink some of the famous Chateau Concours wine which had been prepared for the occasion.

No formal programme had been prepared for the evening, but after everybody had sampled the punch and on the part of the association. Dr. Brett spoke in a witty way, and told a story for the pleasure of the charm which Southern California had cast over them all.

"From our first entry into the United States we were welcomed," he said, "and have been greeted with really unexpected hospitality. When we at first expressed surprise at the lavish courtesy extended to us, we were told to wait until we got farther West and South, and we would find it more so."

Old Meeker Home Down to Make Room for a New One—One Obstacle Remains.

The old Louis Meeker home, west side of Broadway, First and Second streets, has been a landmark of Los Angeles, is being torn down, together with other buildings, will be removed room for the new theatre, says John M. Harry Wyatt. There is one obstacle in the way of work on the site and that is difficulty in removing the remains of a property owner in regard to it. Instead of encouraging such great importance broadway, the city has actually done it. Until the last obstacle the plans for the new are held in abeyance. It seems as though an unusual time will not be many more finest architectural structures will take the place of what are now being done.

The miscellaneous exhibits are of pheasants in royal blue, green and red feathers; some Indian Runners, and a new turkey of high quality.

My exhibitors are represented, and as an indication the annual display is to be the principal event of its exhibition. From San Francisco, Ventura, Pasadena, Glendale, Riverside and other points in Southern California, the Poultry Association has a new turkey of high quality.

It was reported that all the displays would be in some at noon yesterday, but during the afternoon a constant stream of coops with their valuable contents poured into the exhibition room, and the birds were put in place at the opening time. For this reason, and because of the confusion always incident to the opening of a show, the judges was handicapped. Evening came on before the work of judging the fowls had more than begun, and the awards were not completed in any order. Although the birds received a badge of superiority before many coops containing aristocratic thoroughbreds. It is expected that the awards will be completed by this afternoon, and many of the exhibitors will enhance the beauty of their displays with a liberal use of silk and other greenery.

Notwithstanding the fact that the first day of such an exhibition never is well attended, there was a large representation of chicken fanciers at the hall, and those who went early had an opportunity to view the good points of admiration, while there was not a variety of any class which did not receive attention.

One of the interesting and novel features of the exhibition is the hatching in plain sight of about one hundred duck eggs in an incubator, several of the ducklings having hatched yesterday and emerged into the world, while the remainder will lose no time in breaking their prison walls. Two or three other incubators are in working order, and a new one will be ready every few minutes. The "wooden hen" are concerned chiefly with the hatching of pheasant chicks.

The exhibition will be completed by this afternoon, and many of the exhibitors will enhance the beauty of their displays with a liberal use of silk and other greenery.

Taken all in all, the exhibition is one which is attractive to the novice and to the person who knows chickens well, and to the fancier of many years' experience and the management of the association in its efforts to stimulate interest in a new industry has placed before the public a most interesting and instructive display.

The exhibition will continue morning, afternoon and evening until and including Saturday.

STOLE ONCE TOO OFTEN.

Bessie Woods Locked Up for Grand Larceny as a Result of Too Much Alcoholic Enthusiasm.

Bessie Woods, one of the most notorious women of the town, a known thief and "drunk roller," is a prisoner in the City Hall, charged with grand larceny. Detective Flammer arrested A. Broadstreet, a Negro, who was on a charge of vagrancy. He is a Whittier graduate and has a bad record. While Flammer was waiting for a patrol wagon Bessie Woods approached, and going up to his prisoner struck him in the face. Flammer said that she took his wind. Of course the detective arrested her at once, and she, too, was taken to the Police Station. Just as she arrived S. E. Wilson, a Negro, was brought in for the purpose of telling that he had been robbed, and as soon as he saw Bessie he said that she was the woman who had done it. His story was that he had been staying at a resort for prostitutes at Third and Los Angeles streets and from there had accompanied her to the Golden Eagle saloon, where she had left him, and where she took his purse, which contained $4.

At sight of the man Bessie tried to throw away a purse which she had selected from her bosom, but the officer caught her. When the purse was taken from her Wilson at once identified it as his property.

DERRICK FELL ON HOUSE.

Two Residences in Oil District Damaged by Fire Caused by Explosion of Natural Gas.

The explosion of natural gas from an oil well at Cottage Home on North Harvey last night caused the destruction of an oil derrick and the partial destruction of two residences. Oil drillers were at work deepening a well, and after the drill had been pulled up the natural gas escaping from the well became ignited from a lantern used by the driller. The pressure of the gas was so strong that the flame shot up twenty feet or more, forming a veritable geyser of fire. The derrick became ignited, and was soon blazing clear to the top. The heat was so great that the derrick could not stand its burning place, and the fire soon spread to the residence of Patrick Doyle, on one side of the derrick, and to that of John Los Angeles, on the other. Doyle's residence was not much damaged, but the derrick, after its supports had been burned fell, setting fire to the roof, and the flames, after an hour's work extinguished the fire. The loss is estimated at $1200; partially insured.

ACCUSED OF GLASSON'S MURDER.

CHILPIKE CREEK (Colo.) Jan. 14.—George Glasson, Christian Wildman, M. J. Kearns and James E. Kearns miners who had worked in the Wild Horse mine for many years, were accused of having been implicated in the murder of William Glasson, the mine manager who was shot and beaten to death, whose body was thrown down the Kaliwah mine shaft. Ball was found lying before them when it came to nothing.

In many flocks of high degree were brought together in Los Angeles. It is claimed, too, that so far as goes, the annual exhibition in the Square Garden, New York, is not nearly as good as it is here.

THE PUBLIC SERVICE—IN THE OFFICES AND COURTS.

SUMMARY OF THE DAY.

At the regular session yesterday morning the Police Commission revoked the order prohibiting card playing in saloons.

Many license matters were discussed by the Police Commission yesterday, but Antone Ferrario, guilty of a violation of the saloon law, was overlooked.

Mayor Snyder yesterday received two letters from eastern parties who are looking for relatives.

Pictorial testimony flooded the court the other day in a suit for a permanent injunction asking for an ordinance prohibiting purse-net fishing within a mile of the coast line. The hearing will be resumed next week. Meantime it is hoped a compromise may be reached between the sportsmen and the California Fish Company.

THE HURRICANE DECK.Mayor Snyder Gives Stimson and Keene a Lecture on Practical Politics and Police Commission Decides That Cards May Be Played in Saloons.

In the language of the "mug" who controls the corner saloon, "we rule 'gainst' them." The board of directors of the San Francisco Chronicle, in a statement yesterday, said: "It is that of this region are, as it is, enriched with gold and silver veins the copper extracted from the mines. The Chronicle is a newspaper, and it is not extensively operated as either their generation, as they enough of either one or other vein to warrant its exploitation."

It was the cost of the basic metal that made it as precious metal production in the state, according to the precious metals committee of the presence of metal. But when they were very little gold and silver by-products of sufficient value to practically pay all the expenses of mining, converting a

In this case the state of California may be exposed to those of any other state, if we except Arizona, which also enters into the state's total gold output.

Now card-playing in the saloons will again thrive as before. If any result is noticeable, the custom will gain new impetus from the temporary hiatus.

The "barkeeps" will haul out the cold decks, the hot decks and the little red, white and blue chips that are to be used in "litter" friendly games of poker just for fun.

Undoubtedly the members of the board are sorry that they ever said a word. The peremptory order caused a great fuss. All the restorers thought that they could not abide the commissioners when they passed on the street. Some of the saloon men formed a rebellion against the order, and many elements united in condemnation of the commissioners.

Quite recently the Los Angeles Brewing Company has been "jockeyed" out of two of its best brews, stout beer and the applications were presented in order that the company may be in a position to assert priority over a licensed restaurant operator holding both the applications. Chief Elton reported that the necessary frontage was attached to the petitions, but that no license could be granted, as the two-hundred-foot requirement was not met by the brewer.

Apparently the brewing company thought it probable that the license of Antone Ferrario, who conducts the "Tuna Club" at 26th and San Fernando, would be revoked. The commission had given him a rule which it tries out on convenient occasions to the effect that violation of the saloon laws his license shall immediately be revoked.

Ferrario is supposed to rest in peace under the protection of the law, and the Mayor asked that an inquiry be started to discover his whereabouts.

The Mayor called for a vote and the resolution was unanimously passed.

The commissioners then adjourned before the session as humming birds about the honeysuckle, but their presence may have had nothing to do with the unanimous vote in favor of the resolution.

FISH PROTECTION LENGTHILY DISCUSSED.

SUPERVISORS DELUGED WITH PISCATORIAL TALK.

Tuna Club Eager for Restrictive Measures Against Sardine Fishing By California Fish Company in Avales Bay—Board Plays Time for Compromise.

He says she promised to write him the day following her arrival on December 21. Several days elapsed, and Mr. Cox became greatly troubled. He says: "I saw her a sort of time ago which I had been waiting posture, her dress half torn from her, her hair hanging down over her face, and looking up at me in a very appealing manner. She was not in a condition to work, but I much fear that something had happened to her, for she surely would have written me if well and able." The first witness was Prof. Holder, founder of the Tuna Club and a biological specialist. It was his opinion that the fish are now needing protection both the sardines and the game fish.

"I believe," said Prof. Holder, "that the Fish Company has been negligent in this matter, and I have written both to the commissioners and to the Governor calling attention to the situation," he continued.

"Why don't you take this petition before the commissioners—it is in their business?" chimed in Attorney Adams for the Fish Company.

"Well," was the professor's calm answer, "that was our intention a year ago, but a compromise made our plans unnecessary. Since that time, however, we have the new bill introduced by Senator Thorpe, and I have been in touch with him, and he has agreed to withdraw his bill, and I have written to the Mayor asking that an inquiry be started to discover his whereabouts.

This report created general laughter.

Prof. Holder believes that without protection fishing in these waters will go on as before."

"Would not the mile-limit kill all business for the 'Alpha?'" Attorney Adams asked.

"No, it won't," was the reply. "The mile limit does not hurt the industry on the Atlantic Coast."

The California coast line is remarkable in that it has few bays or inlets where the fish are found. The coast line where none of the members of the family was around the place. The burglary netted the thieves three watches and some valuable articles of jewelry.

Vitas Meyer residence at the Franklin Lodge house on North Broadway. Yesterday he discovered that his room had been broken into during his absence and a quantity of clothing and several pieces of jewelry stolen.

The detectives believe that most of these jobs were done by members of a gang of professionals who have been operating in this city for the past ten days. None of the stolen property has been discovered.

"No," said he, concluding his testimony. "The Tuna Club is not there to interfere with anybody's industry. We are there merely to protect our members."

From an industrial standpoint the sardine should be protected against annihilation because, in my opinion, the California fish can be more easily preserved than a French than the Maine article."

Vincent Morlich, who has lived on this coast for thirty years, and fished here for twenty-five years, also testified that he was in favor of protection from the purse net. Vincent thinks Avalon Bay a great spawning ground; so does Prof. Holder.

"VIGOROUS INDUSTRY."

The occasion was the hearing of a yard-long petition signed by the county's leading sportsmen, two or three thousand signatures, asking the Board of Supervisors to pass an ordinance prohibiting purse net fishing in the Pacific Ocean within a mile of the coast line. Against this petition was the vigorous protest of the California Fish Company, whose fishing boat, Alpha, scores every foot of quiet water in this stretch of the coast, sardines, which are canned in San Pedro.

The company contends that a one-mile limit would destroy the industry, since the sardine is not a deep-sea fish.

The petitioners are certain that the sardine is a bottom dweller, such an amount that the big game fish have no chance to leave for other waters, and that, unless protection measures are adopted, the species that have heretofore brought in millions of dollars to the State of the Union, and brings every year three times the price of the Atlantic Coast article.

We sold some canned goods last year from 100,000 to 150,000 million and a half cases were put up this year. We notice no difference in the California sardines from the Mediterranean article.

"There is no noticeable diminution in the number of sardines in these waters since your company began fishing here," said Attorney Adams.

The "Alpha" sometimes takes into San Pedro thirteen and fourteen tons of sardines, although the purse-net will catch no more than twenty in a year. Its annual catches amount to 200,000 pounds approximately. The output per year is about twenty-five carloads.

The following applications were granted: Mrs. Beth Hadcock, restaurant liquor license No. 426 West Second street; Mrs. M. M. M. Moore, restaurant liquor license No. 22 South Spring street, from V. H. LOCAL SPORTING RECORD.
JACKSON AND BERRY
BILLIARD VICTORS.

EXCELLENT SPORT AT TOURNEY
LAST EVENING.

Owls and Oaks Make Good Scores
in Bowling—Courting Drawing This Evening—Pat Dougherty Signs With the Boston Baseball Club.

The second set of three-cushion games for the amateur championship were played last night at the Hoffman, and resulted in victories for Will Jackson and W. H. Berry, who defeated
Charles F. Peacock and Frank McLean.
Many spectators watched the play, which was very good at times. Both games of twenty-one points were fin ished in sixty-six innings, an average of a trifle less than .33.

The first game was between Berry
and Williams, and was very exciting, both being in the lead at various times.
In the tenth frame, Berry had lead twice to nine for Williams, but the latter player braced up and in the fifty-ninth was twenty to seventeent for Berry. This was made up by a fine run, and the score stood 21 to 19.
After Williams had missed two easy shots, Berry got a "set-up" and made his required count. Each player had three sets.

The next game was between Will Jackson and Charles Brownstein, and was won by Jackson with a score of 21 to 17. Jackson started off with a lead away from the game, and may have thought he would, for he made ten points in seven shots, which is very good work for an amateur. He made the lead after a run of three in the eighth inning,
he took eight shots for the next point, seven for the next one, two for the following one and twelve for the last. Jackson won the game in the forty sixth and finally finished in the six sixth, the same inning Berry won.

Brownstein had a hard luck on many of his shots. In his thirty-third inning he had but twelve points, and made no more until the fifty-first, when he scored eight runs, three of which fol lowed this with one in the sixty-first,
and another in the sixty-third.

Two games will be played every even ing until the tournament ends.

BOWLING.

OWLS AND OAKS WIN.

Four good games of ten pins were bowled last night, and of the lot the Owls carried off the honors of the evening with a score of 235. The Oaks did double duty, however, and if they would easily have gone over 240.
Dodge made the high roll and the high average for the Oaks, and Best the high roll of 21 for the Owls. The contest for fourth place in the tour nament will be held Saturday evening, and will be more so before the close.
